The Mountain Eagle

A NEWSPAPER WITH A NATIONAL TOUCH, A TANGIBLE SOIL AND A HEART FOR THOSE IT SERVES.

VOLUME NO. XXV.

WHITESBURG, LETCHER COUNTY, KY., THURSDAY EVENING, AUGUST 24, 1933

NUMBER 52

TWO FILE CONTESTS HERE

As a result of the primary of August 5, two of the candidates defeated on the face of the returns filed, a few days ago petitions for contests. These are Stephen P. Combs, defeated for the Republican nomination for sheriff, and James M. Crase, defeated for County Judge. J. Harvey Hogg was given the certificate of nomination for sheriff and J. Mart Potter the certificate for County Judge. The petition grounds for contest filed by Combs and verified by him, alleges that Mrs. Mantie Whitaker, candidate for jailer; J. Harvey Hogg, candidate for sheriff, and J. Mart Potter, candidate for County Judge, entered into a corrupt conspiracy, whereby they agreed to, and did, make up a "slush fund" of more than $5,000 to corrupt the primary election by the purchase of votes and otherwise violate and corrupt said election in violation of the Corrupt Practices Law.

The petition of James M. Crase against the nomination of Mr. Potter alleges the same charges and is verified by him. Thus, it looks like preparations are being made for the beginning to fly. Of course, the contests will come back with hot denials and counter charges, in some instances along the same grounds.

The contest is brought in the Circuit Court and ordinarily would be heard by Judge R. M. Fields, but we understand he has already disqualified himself as trial judge in the case. Unless the parties interested agree among themselves for some local attorney to hear the cases, the Court of Appeals will appoint one. It was said a few days ago that Thos. R. Collier, the runner up to Mrs. Whitaker in the jailer's race, had his petition for a contest ready, but up to Monday evening his petition has not been filed.

Later, early today, Mr. Crase came into the Circuit Clerk's office and ordered his petition for contest to be set aside and held for naught. Thus only one contest is pending, against Mr. Hogg, who has the certificate of nomination for sheriff.

BLACKKEY

Mr. and Mrs. Pendleton and family, Letcher, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Alcorn Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Caudill visited friends in Jackson Sunday.

Mrs. Martha Cornett, Cornettsville, is the guest of her daughters, Mesdames R. B. and W. J. Caudill, this week.

Mr. and Mrs. James May and family are visiting relatives at Alto this week.

Mesdames H. L. Cockerham and Lydia B. Adams returned Saturday night from a week's visit at the World's Fair.

Sam Stamp and Bill Collins were slightly injured Saturday afternoon when the automobile in which they were riding overturned.

Mr. and Mrs. Willie G. Webb returned to Hazard Saturday, visiting relatives. Mr. Webb is the Democratic nominee for magistrate in the fifth district.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Feltner and Arthur Stamp visited friends in Hyden Sunday.

Bascom Stamper was the guest of his uncle, Stephen Caudill, Ermine, last week.

During our busy days prior to the election and in our rush to furnish the public with primary ballots, we are sorry to say that some important news items and other articles intended for the public went by the way-side. We will do our best to see that this does not occur again. Let us have your little church programs, social news briefs, birthday notices and any and all other news items worth the space they occupy.

CRIME IN THE MOUNTAINS

If the greatness of our hills, the honored birthplace and burying grounds of our fathers, is to be upheld the wave of crime must subside. We do not speak so much of our own county, Letcher, for considering conditions surrounding us, we have luckily escaped much of the major offenses. We speak of our sister territory, Harlan, Bell, Perry, Breathitt, Floyd and Pike. Those who do not read the weekly county newspapers scarcely realize what is constantly taking place in Harlan, up to this time, during this year around thirty persons have been shot to death. Not a week, scarcely a day, passes that shootings and deaths do not occur in Floyd. It is almost as bad in Pike, Perry and Breathitt. From August 2 to August 10, there were six homicides in Bell. In one instance, if reports are true, a sixteen-year-old youth shot a man to death in the night time out in the public highway. Out at night with a pistol looking for trouble.

There are two things evidently at the head of this reign of crime and debauchery. Whiskey and pistols backed by low training and low morals. The law, the only safeguard for civilization, is not enforced. Men at the head of affairs, grand juries and trial juries to whom peaceful citizens must look for protection, are asleep at the crossings, derelict in their duty. We would not unreasonably criticize anyone, but if as a local newspaper we fail to sound the alarm we, too, become a party to the conditions. Men of these beautiful hills, let us not whistle while Rome burns. A few alert officers can't do it. There must be a union of forces, a grim determination to beat back the waves that are knocking at our very doors and are seeping this sacred ground with blood. Officers should be selected who are not more lawless than the criminals they are supposed to apprehend.

There was an alarm given at Wheelwright a few evenings ago. A doctor was demanded. A man had fatally shot a woman—his sister.

Letcher Has Magician

Persons in need of a good magician, who want to raise funds for benevolent or other purposes, will do well to see or write FRED HUGHES, Whitesburg, Ky.

WANTS TO BE MEMBER BOARD OF EDUCATION

Arch Craft, jr., of Millstone, writes that he is a candidate or member of Board of Education from his division. In so stating, he says that owing to the fact that he was a teacher 14 years, he is qualified, and that he has the interests of the school boys and girls at heart and will do all in his power to make them better men and women, that he will take special care of the teachers employed in his division and look well to the interest of every voter and taxpayer in the county. He says he will make his formal announcement soon.

IT IS A SHAME

Owing to reverses and heavy losses in the last three years, Whitesburg is to lose one of its most beneficial business men and one of its best families. We refer to J. B. Mullins who is giving up all his property here and with his family, moving to Pound, Va., where he will again endeavor to start business on a small scale. For a dozen or more years, Mullins Brothers have been among Whitesburg's best business men and useful citizens. They have been among the heaviest taxpayers and public improvement builders and promoters. Every scrap of their vast property holdings are being ripped from them and going for their debts and will probably not bring, when put on sale, anything like half what it is worth. The Mullins store building, the best in the city, which cost $31,000, will go for almost nothing. Such rippings by debtors at such a time can hardly be tolerated. Whitesburg and those remaining can ill afford many such losses. But these boys, like the honorable men they are, are giving up all and will start again with heads up-lifted, not ashamed to look the whole world in the face and owe not any man. J. B. and his excellent family goes with the best wishes of every loyal citizen of Whitesburg. Watson will stay for the present and do all in his power to climb back on his feet regardless of his heavy losses.

Kirby Ison, one of Letcher's live young men of Skyline, was over to see the Eagle Tuesday, and paid for the Eagle to be sent to Morehead where he calculates on entering school in two weeks and for a term of nine months.

It Pays to Advertise!

Pays For Life

The following receipt was signed and delivered a few days ago:

Received of Uncle John Abbott, Jenkins, Ky., balance due on Lifetime subscription to the Mountain Eagle.—N. M. Webb, Editor.

COMMUNION SEASON AT SANDLICK

Saturday and Sunday was the annual communion season at the old Sandlick Baptist church at Caudill. The members on Sunday engaged in the annual wine drinking, bread breaking and feet washing, as has always been practiced by this old church on Sunday.

SWISHER THANKFUL, TOO

R. N. Swisher says he is heartily thankful for the voters piling up such a nice majority for him in the primary. He says that if elected and any of his friends should happen to die during his tenure, for them to call around and he will help to bury them.

CANDIDATE MOVES TO TOWN

Wm. H. Caudill, Democratic candidate for sheriff, has resigned his position with the Consolidation Coal Company at Jenkins and has moved to our city, having located in the Arthur Diron home in Letcher Heights.

GO TO THE FAIR

John Adkins, Miss Wilma Back, Woodford Webb, Follace Fields, Clyde Collins and Harold Back left Tuesday evening for Chicago, where they will spend a few days at the fair.

Reports reach us from the coalfields that the coal business is good and steadily increasing.

Mrs. R. Dean Squires, Mrs. Gertrude Hogg and Mrs. I. E. Enlow were pleasant business callers on the Eagle.

A friend is someone who knows all about you and loves and honors you just the same.

When you play, play hard; when you work, don't play at all.

NOTICE

A meeting of the Democratic Executive Committee, composed of the precinct chairmen of Letcher County, is hereby called for Saturday, Sept. 2, 1933, at 1.00 p. m. in Whitesburg. All nominees of the party are invited to be present. All Democrats are invited. Important business is to be transacted.

ASTOR HOGG, Chairman Democratic Ex. Com.

Knott Nominees

Over in Knott County, where the Democrats usually sweep the platter, the nominees for county offices are: County Attorney, Clark Pratt; Circuit Judge, E. M. Moore; County Court Clerk, Ballard Stone; Sheriff, Henry Sturgill; County Court Clerk, Arthur Pigman; Tax Commissioner, Bruce Martin; and Jailor, our own Sherd Sturgill.

JEREMIAH

On Friday night, August 19, the Carpiem Literary Society presented its second program, which was witnessed by about 200 people. The society wishes to thank the people for their attention during the program and their interest and encouragement shown the society.

The most interesting part of the program was the scholastic arguments from both sides on the subject of athletics. The subject of debate was: Resolved, that high schools and colleges are placing too much stress on athletics.

Affirmative: Dennis Dixon, Grant Blair, Venson Caudill.

Negative: Lester Caudill, Begie Breeding, Willie J. Back.

Sports Events: Tressie Caudill.

Music: G. Fuller, Claude Watts, Virgil Witt.

The debate was undecisive, yet it was interesting as a judged debate. The arguments were placed mostly on the fact that high school and college students are passed on their athletic standing rather than their intellectual standing. I think that to extent athletics are being carried too far, for that is cheating the other students who do not participate in these sports. I think the question was thoroughly debated from both sides, which showed that effort and study had been done by both sides.

The audience was well entertained by the guitar music, accompanied by a mandolin. The music was given at different intervals through the program.

Our society basketball team is in training and we hope to have several games during the season. The captain, Dawson Back, is working the team very hard, getting them ready for a game Saturday with the Colly Independents.

PERT CREEK NEWS

Mrs. Walter Adams gave a party Sunday evening in honor of her daughter, Hazel, who recently returned from school. Morris Hall was in charge of the music, Bill Polly was the champion dancer. The affair was enjoyed by a number of Hazel's friends. We are sorry Walter Adams was forced to be away, being employed at Wheelwright.

School is progressing nicely under the watchful care of Asford Hogg. He surely keeps the boys and girls busy.

Woodrow Couch is very ill at the home of Birchel Jones. He seems to be suffering from typhoid fever.

In the late primary, G. Bennett Adams received the largest number of votes, 3044; Judge R. M. Fields next, 3040; Mantie Whitaker next, 2715; Geo. M. Adams next, 2656, followed by J. Harvey Hogg 2518, and Stephen P. Combs, 2459. No one else except Thos. R. Collier ran above the two thousand mark. He received 2199. In all the other races, the contestants ran so close to each other that their total votes were small and winners had only small minorities. In the Democratic contests, here being very little rivalry and the campaigns almost negligible, Sandy Adams, for County Judge, received the greatest number of votes, 1590; Crc Caudill, County Clerk, 1571 and Wm. H. Caudill for sheriff, 1522. Judge Chiders ran next with 1512, and the next largest number, 1302 for your truly.

RELIEF FOR THE POOR

There has been more or less criticism, as we have said before, on the relief furnished the people of the county since the work started some ten months ago. In looking back and as carefully as our mentality will allow us, we are glad that no criticism has come thru the Eagle. In dealing with no less than 5500 people and in the effort to render help to them, numbers of mistakes were made. People not entitled to help were probably helped, some of the money spent was probably wasted by being put into projects that were useless, but the work was done and the money went to quiet the nerves of some poor mother and furnish a meal for some poor children, all of whom were in no sense responsible for their poverty-stricken condition. In rendering charity and helping the needy, no one can go back of the condition that produced it. Generally, unemployment prevailing for over two years has brought on the desperate condition. The coal companies had exhausted their every means to feed their thousands of men in their camps. The whole truth is without the relief furnished, deaths would have resulted from starvation and exposure.

Another period of scarcity and suffering is again just ahead. It may not be as desperate as that through which we have passed but it will be bad enough. Thousands have struggled to get on their feet this season. The dry weather has heavily handicapped them and there must be no starvation permitted in the county if it can be prevented. The Administration, both state and national, is behind the movement to furnish relief. With it, the future is dark enough; without it, we dare to contemplate the certain possibilities. The heart of the nation, the common people, is its refuge. When that heart is broken by calamity, desperation is abroad in the land and insurrection sweeps everything before it. The preservation of the country must be maintained.

Thanks, All

To the Voters of Magisterial District No. 5: I am very thankful to all my friends and every body else for their support in the past primary. The vote given me is very encouraging and appreciative. I will thank all for their support in the coming election, and if elected, I will render you and our county faithful and earnest service.

WILLIE G. WEBB.

SQUIRE SERGEANT SENDS THANKS

According to the returns of the primary in District No. 3, I was defeated by my nearest opponent by only three votes. I made a fair and square contest for the nomination and I am satisfied. I am extending this word of thanks to all who supported me in the election or in any way helped me. In office or out, I shall continue to be loyal to my people and my county.

Your friend,
Henry Sergeant.

FLEMING SCHOOL OPENS

The prospects look favorable for the Fleming schools to open this year with the largest enrollment in their history, and with the smallest amount of funds upon which to operate.

This situation is to be lamented, in fact, deplored but there is no prospect for relief this school year. However, it is to be hoped that something may at least be begun to avoid this situation another school year.

The enrollment will begin on Tuesday morning, September 5. The grades will report to the grade buildings at 8:30, Tuesday morning for enrollment. Only those who were enrolled in Fleming schools last year will be enrolled Tuesday morning. New students will report Wednesday afternoon at 12:30.

The junior and senior high school will report to the high school building Tuesday afternoon at 12:30 for enrollment. New students should have credentials.

A teachers' meeting is called for Monday afternoon at two o'clock.

We are, this week, mailing statements to all our subscribers whose subscription is expiring and to those behind. We will wait a week before removing the names from the list. Our situation is such that we cannot send the paper on time. Please be kind enough to respond and force us to lose.

To those who have renewed their subscriptions and the many who have lately enlisted with us, we offer our best greetings, and to those who have not, we extend our open hand and heart. May the no-strike you but not injure you.

Cro Thanks Friends

There are no words in the English language strong enough to express my feelings toward my friends who have stood by me in this and former elections. While my name will appear on the ballot under the Democratic device, I believe all of you know me well enough to know that I am first, last and all the time for my people as a whole without any regard to politics or creed. You have helped me when I could not help myself, and it will be a pleasure to spend the rest of my life trying to help you.

With a heart full of love for my people, I sincerely hope you will again honor me to serve you for another four years and I assure you now that each and every citizen of my county will have the same courteous treatment in the future he has had from me in the past.

Again thanking you and hoping to see and talk with each of you personally before the election, I am,

Sincerely yours,
(Pol. adv.) CRO C. CAUDILL.

NEON

Mrs. Ellen Bentley, mother of the doctors Bentley of Neon, is reported some better at this time.

J. U. Butler, of Jackson, left Wednesday after a visit in Neon, the guest of Mrs. Rose Goodwin and her brother, Walter Hill.

Mrs. Joe I Day fell at the hotel Tuesday afternoon and broke her arm. She is reported resting very well today.

James W. Speaks was in Lethair last Friday, visiting his mother, Mrs. E. L. Speaks, who has been very sick for some time.

Mrs. Sam Webb has been suffering quite a bit the past week or two with a severe attack of asthma.

"Pa" Quillen left Monday morning for a visit with his daughter in Port Arthur, Texas.

The Hugh Strunk family returned Monday after a pleasant visit with relatives in Corbin.

Mr. and Mrs. Burley Hale and children were in Neon Saturday night of last week.

We are all for relief to the poor and unemployed, but I question whether any of us can afford other taxes just now in order to provide our portion of the relief. Business is gradually crawling back into the sunlight, and whatever would retard it would most likely stop it and thus produce another calamity, which none of us can endure.

Voters in Kentucky will vote on November 7, general election day, on the question of repeal or retention of the 18th Amendment to the Constitution. Delegates will be elected to attend a state convention.

FARMER'S UNION AT BLACKKEY

The regular meeting of the Farmer's Union, held at Blackkey Wednesday night, was well attended and much enthusiasm was manifest. The membership of the Union is now over seventy, all of whom are a few business men, the majority of whom are farmers. Talks were made by J. Harvey Hogg, Rev. Cockerham, J. Wain Adams, others and the editor of the Eagle. The purpose of the union is to put farming, gardening and other agricultural interests back on their feet again and stimulate life into the only methods by which hope and prosperity can come back to that finest of farming sections of the county. The Union meets every Wednesday night at 7 p. m. Everybody is invited to attend and participate in arousing interest. The Union is trying to provide an outside speaker each night.

In looking over the crowd at the meeting Wednesday night, we noted that a number of Blackey's leading business men were not present, and we silently wondered why. The day is just out a short distance when the business men of that, as well as all other sections of the county, will have to depend upon the farmers for their success or failure.

Jesse B. Eversole, of Partidge, a leading farmer and fine citizen, was over to see his daughter, Mrs. Doyle Hogg, and other friends.

John Milton Webb, son of the late Melt Webb, now residing in Illinois, is here for a few days visiting in Bottomfork and Mayking sections.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Bowen and children left early in the week for Chicago, where they will spend several days enjoying the World's Fair.

Once Jim Collins, of Upper Rockhouse, long one of our noblest citizens, was in the county speaking and mixing with his many friends.

Gus Harr, formerly a well known Whitesburg citizen, is here for a few days, looking after business. He is an expert blacksmith and mechanic.

C. C. Wells, lately nominated by the Democrats for Representative in the Letcher-Perry district, was a visitor in the city this week.

Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Franklin, of Sergeant, were social and business visitors in the city during the week. Notwithstanding the depression in the past three or more years, Dock looks like a million dollar bill.

C. J. Spradlin and a young Picklesimer were down from Seco Monday night speaking with their many friends.

Mrs. Alpha Hart and two little daughters left on an auto trip to Chicago, where they will spend a few days taking in the great fair.

Among the fifty-seven graduates of the Eastern State College at Richmond, was Miss Vera Raleigh, employed in the Whitesburg High School, who received her Bachelor of Arts degree.

The Men's Bible Class here Sunday was in charge of M.K. Marlowe and an interesting and instructive message was given. These lectures before this class each Sunday morning are the leading features of the town and good crowds always attend. The quarters are in the old postoffice building on Main St.

Again it is the same old story. Every candidate who won in the primary placed announcements in the Eagle. Some, of course, who did not win. Many of them were aspirants for the same office and, of course, all of them couldn't win.

IT'S 26 NOW

"Volume 25, Number 53" reads the date line on the Eagle this week. Think of it! Twenty six years ago on the last Thursday in August, down on the then ramshackled Main Street in what was then known as the "Manerva Brashears Home" the first few copies of the Eagle were run off the press. It was a hazardous venture, and those who looked over its pages said, "Well, it's different, but it, too, will be dead in a few months." Only a few people were willing to slap us on the back and say, "Go at it, Nehe, you can make it go." And so it trudged along, stumbling and halting. All day and all night, sometimes, we "stuck type" in order to get out the paper on time. It began to attract attention not only in the old town but in the country as well. A sample copy with a request for a subscription was mailed to the late John Mayo, at Paintsville, and in a few days a letter was received which read, "Enclosed please find check for $1.00, for which send me that dandy little Eagle of yours for one year." Over across the street a family set up all night. Karl Davis danced a jig and went off and got drunk. (Excuse us, Karl, for divulging this secret, but I'll never forget how wild-eyed you looked) and the next day we bought a small, fat hog. Well, other things "drapped" around, which assured the success of the paper. It was sleddin' that will always be remembered. A feature in the Eagle which I shall never forget was "Our Young Folks' Department." How the children did rally to get their little letters printed. There were dozens and dozens of them each week. I wish today I could recall the names of all our little letter writers. It would be a sad, glad and mournful family record. Great numbers of them, and I adore the very ground on which they walked, have passed beyond life's vale. Others, with grown families and grandchildren, still trudge on, meeting life's stern realities, and, like us, looking daily just over the way. I now recall a few of them, but I mention no names. Everyone of these who really grew up in the columns of the Eagle, I have always cherished and admired. To tell the truth, I think the Eagle had something to do in making and shaping their lives. And not only these but thousands of others.

And, so the 26th year ends this week. What lies just out on the morrow? God only knows. His hand has undoubtedly directed us in all these years or we would have surrendered to the storms. Do I regret that I entered upon this work? No, never! If I should never write another line or offer another word of encouragement to my countrymen and their children, I should be satisfied. Why, because I believe I have done my part. But I want the Eagle to go on. The fields are still white to the harvest. The task is not yet finished. If I can still be a little instrument for good, for our people and service in anyway, I am ready for the sacrifice. So we plod on.

A BAD SPIRIT

Boys who rob and steal whatever they can lay their hands on are common in the town and country, we are told. A few days ago three or four little boys, rangin in age from seven to twelve, entered a back garden of a home in town in the day time and took melons, tomatoes and other fruits, in fact, anything they wanted. When ordered from the premises, one of the boys said to the owner, "We have the same right here as you do and we will take whatever we want here or anywhere else." Early this week, a flock of boys entered the back kitchen and dining room of a residence in town, unknown to the owner and completely stripped the pantry and dining room of everything they wanted. Had these boys been caught in the act, they would probably have made the same plea. Such a spirit in boys of this age or older did not originate in themselves. It came from the conversations and actions of matured men and women. It is bad and dangerous spirit and it's spreading like wild fire over the land. Courthouses, jails and houses of reform have no terrors for persons afflicted with such a spirit. The truth is the penitentiaries and reform schools are over-crowded with such juvenile criminals and the crying question is: what can be done to stop such a spirit that is so terrifying and dangerous? The town, the county, state and nation are wrestling with the problem; the long-suffering taxpayer public is held to poverty's edge by it, and yet there seems to be no solution of the problem in sight.

Sacred Song

By H. H. HARRIS

Forgive, forgive, O Lord, forgive. Unless thou wilt, we can not live. We know our sins are very great. We feel the burden of their weight.

We are so sad, when we recall That thru one man we all did fall; That Adam brought upon the race The awful death that we must face.

We can not do some mighty deed, That we might from our sins be freed. Though we should build a synagogue Of brick, or stone, or plank or log.

It would not give us entrance in To heavenly gate, because of sin, If we should live a moral life, Be true to home and child and wife.

If we should treat our neighbor right This would not give us heavenly light. The serpent's trail is over all, The honest man is 'neath the fall.

There is none good, no, no, not one, We all are lost, all are undone. The woman's boasted purity, This will give security.

The Pharisee prayed long and loud In presence of the largest crowd. He said he fasted twice a week, He was too proud, he was not weak.

He thought he was so very good, He praised himself in happy mood. He was not like that Publican, He gave his tithes for God and man.

Of all his goodness, thus he brags, "His righteousness was filthy rags." Upon his goodness he relied, We fear in sin at last he died.

The Publican, with drooping head, Beat on his breast and thus he said, "Be merciful to me, O Lord, I am a sinner by Thy word."

The Publican was justified, In penitence, he lost his pride. He trusted not his righteousness, He humbly plead for God to bless.

The Elders came and brought her in, The woman that was caught in sin. They said to Christ, the holy one, Our Moses said her we must stone.

Now what say you, what shall we do? They tempted Christ, now this He knew. Upon the ground His finger wrote, At first the words they did not note.

Christ raised himself, they did not stir, "He without sin first cast at her." No one among them could sinless be, No one but Christ from sin was free.

The oldest man, his head was gray, Christ wrote his name upon the clay. I think he wrote beneath his name His favorite sin, much to his shame.

The next in age, He wrote him down With favorite sin, may've caused a frown, And so on down the line He went, With name and sin and full content.

All these good, convict in heart, Went one by one, with conscious smart, And left the poor woman there alone With Christ, her Savior, holy one.

"Doth no man thee condemn," said He, "No man, Lord," penitent, said she. "Neither do I your soul condemn, Go sin no more, with sinful men."

Our Savior died that we might live Salvation free to us will give; If we in faith, accept Him now Who died for us on Calvary's brow.

"Come unto me, come unto me," Salvation's free, salvation's free. Repent, repent, forsake your sins, Come unto God, new life begins.

I am compelled to go thru my subscription list and eliminate all who are behind. I just can't "carry on" and not collect. I beg all who are behind to kindly spare me the amount. Ask yourself the question, "When did I pay for my subscription?"

Energizing Evelyn

EVELYN BRENT of the motion pictures and stage is a confirmed "snacker" and if you understood the parlance of the stage and screen you would know that a "snacker" is one who partakes of a sweet bite between sets or acts. The value of a sweet snack, scientists point out, is to refuel the body with sugar—nature's greatest energy food—to offset fatigue. Miss Brent's snack usually consists of a piece of cake and a glass of milk.

LEGEND OF THE DOGWOOD

At the time of the Crucifixion, the dogwood attained the size of the oak and other forest trees. So strong and firm was the wood of it that it was chosen as the timber for the cross.

To be used thus for such a cruel purpose greatly distressed the trees, and Jesus nailed upon it sensed this and in His gentle pity for all sorrow, said to it:

"Because of your regret and pity for my suffering, I make you this promise: never again shall the dogwood tree grow large enough to be used for a cross. Henceforth it shall be slender and bent and twisted, and its blossoms shall be in the form of a cross—two long and two short petals. And in the center of the outer edge of each petal there will be nail prints, brown with rust and stained with blood, and in the center of the flower will be a crown of thorns. And all who see it will remember it was upon a dogwood tree that I was crucified. And this tree shall not be mutilated nor destroyed, but cherished and protected as a reminder of my agony and death upon the cross."

The Child Reader

by MARJORIE BARROWS
Editor, Child Life Magazine.

One afternoon many years ago a wharf rat on San Francisco Bay wandered into the Oakland Public Library. There, opening a bound volume of a children's magazine, he stumbled upon a story. It was a story about a boy like himself—a runaway, a gang leader of wharf rats, who had certain semi-piratical adventures, but who, after a hard lesson, learned of better ways of living his life.

Making of Jack London. The dramatic, exciting story awoke in the young reader the uneasy consciousness of his own wrong actions. He walked out of that library resolving to lead just as adventurous a life but one that carried with it a clear conscience. So he joined the Fish Patrol, cruised about the bay, fought poachers, and before long began to write stories about his adventures.

That boy was Jack London. The experience of this famous writer occurs, in a rather less dramatic fashion, in the life of every boy or girl.

Careful investigators have discovered that next to persons, nothing has more influence on children than what they read. If a hero they admire acts under certain circumstances as they themselves would like to act, they'll remember it.

They imitate the Hero. And when the time comes, they'll unconsciously be influenced by that hero's action and try to do likewise. The hero's kindness, ambition, steadfastness, loyalty, the hero's resourcefulness, quick-wittedness, painstaking qualities, courage, magnanimity, modesty—all these examples "sink in" and are emulated both now and later.

One story with hidden character-building values is worth a dozen sermons from parents or teachers.

Let us try to see that this sort of a story, full of plenty of adventure for the boy, full of interesting plots and characters for the girl, is convenient for them to pick up.

Jack London isn't the only one to be tremendously influenced by the printed word.

We gave away more than 100 extra copies of the Eagle containing the vote tabulation and have contributed that many more. Please let us have your subscription.

Printing material, including news, letterheads and envelopes have creased at least fifty per cent. in cost in the last month, and, of course, as this material increases our prices will have to climb in proportion. Try trading now at your merchant and see the difference in prices now and what they were a month ago. We can no longer expect the same in anything. ## GREATEST KENTUCKY FAIR IN 31 YEARS, PROMISED AT LOUISVILLE, KY., SEPT. 11 TO 16

Louisville, Ky., (Special).—In the catalogue and premium list for the coming 31st annual Kentucky State Fair in Louisville, September 11 to 16, Governor Ruby Laffoon, Commissioner of Agriculture Eugene Flowers, and State Fair Secretary, Garth K. Ferguson, join in promising the people of the Commonwealth the greatest State Fair in history.

They also join in urging the people of all parts of the State to attend this "Kentucky's Annual Get-Together," the one place, they say, where people may meet each other, see their State on "dress parade" and catch the inspiration of the fine exhibits which reveal the progress of the State's agriculture, its commerce and its industry, as well as the developments in the gentle arts of home making.

"All features usual to the best fairs in the nation," states Governor Laffoon, "will be present and new and novel ones will appear. The Kentucky State Fair's message this year to the citizens of our Commonwealth, and to others, will be that 'Kentucky is not afraid but continues to carry on.'"

Commissioner Flowers says: "It is my ambition to make of the Kentucky State Fair an institution in which every citizen of the State may feel that he has a personal, vested interest. To bring this ambition, which lies so close to my heart, to a realization, requires that the people from every section of our State avail themselves of the truly wonderful opportunities they are offered for visiting and enjoying the fair and its benefits. The State Fair is regarded by Kentuckians, at home and abroad, as an annual event for them to get together for renewing old friendships and making new acquaintances with the best people of the state and elsewhere."

In pointing out that last year's State Fair this year, fair became popularly known as "the fair that beat the depression." Secretary Ferguson predicts an even larger attendance than last year,

"which was 15 per cent greater in paid admissions," says he, "than the year before. We have spared no pains this year to produce another great educational exhibit and provide a wealth of amusement and entertainment."

"In addition," says Mr. Ferguson, "we sincerely hope that whole families and neighborhoods will come again as they did last year, as there will be no other event in the State offering so much of interest and wholesome amusement. The entries are greater than ever, both in number and quality."

"Horse racing, as usual, will be the principal attraction in front of the Grand Stand for Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons. Nightly in front of the Grand Stand will be a brilliant fireworks spectacle, as well as a number of other amusements."

"The Horse Show, the world's greatest event of the kind, as usual, will be held in the livestock pavilion, all six days and nights, the chief attraction of which will be the $10,000 saddle horse stake, the leading saddle horse event in the world. It will be shown in four divisions on four different nights, the grand championship being staged the closing night, Saturday, September 16. The American Saddle Horse Breeder's Futurity, the world's richest colt event will be shown in three divisions, Tuesday and Thursday afternoons, and Wednesday night."

"Besides these regular features," says Mr. Ferguson, "there are many other events making up an exceptional exposition which no Kentuckian should miss seeing. You can not know Kentucky unless you see the State Fair this year."

Garth K. Ferguson, Secretary, Kentucky State Fair.

Eugene Flowers, Commissioner of Agriculture.

A CONTEST for subscriptions to the Eagle is staged to start in mid-September and every friend to the editor and the paper will be urged to help promote it. On the success of this venture depends the life of your old friend, the Eagle. Everybody must have the Eagle and the Eagle must have the subscriptions. Be ready to help in some way.

The Cincinnati Bargain Store at Lohair, Al Major manager, is putting on a big "Patriotic Sale," starting Saturday, and will continue for ten days only.

From the revised figures printed in the advertisement of the bank here, that it is no longer "Whitesburg's little bank", as it was called for several months after it started. Under its present careful and cheap management and the gradual growth of business in this country and the guarantee of deposits authorized by the Government and the act passed by the Kentucky Legislature authorizing state banks to take steps to adopt, this institution should be able to grow and thrive right on in the future. Readers should keep an eye from month to month as the figures revise. A bank in a town is an urgent necessity and when safe should be patronized by every citizen.

Harry L. Moore is billed to speak before the Farmers' Union Club at Blackey on next Wednesday night at 7:00 p.m. Car dealers are reporting the best sales they have had in a year or more.

College Degree Worth $100,000, Experts Find

Statisticians and research investigators have at last run down the elusive and much discussed dollar and cents value of a college education and have fixed it at $100,000. Their survey reveals that the average untrained boy goes to work at the age of 14, earns less than $1,700 a year, so that his income from 14 to 60 totals $64,000. The high school graduate, they find, starts work at 18, reaches his maximum income of $2,800 at 50 and by 60 has earned a total of $88,000. The college graduate, they learned, starts his career at about 22, has caught up with the high school graduate by 30 and at 60 is earning from $6,000 to $8,000 a year with a total earning at 60 of between $100,000 and $200,000. Figures from the same survey produced by the statistical department of Union Central Life Insurance Company show that out of 1,000 children entering grade school only 23 graduate from college. Lack of funds is revealed as the main reason for leaving school and educational insurance is now advocated as a means of giving a higher percentage the "break" which a college degree assures.

Relief From Pellagra

After Taking Two Bottles of Scalf's Indian River Tonic

Mrs. Ben Noe, Loyall, Ky., says: "For more than a year I had suffered from pellagra. The skin on my arms and feet and ankles was broken out; I had no appetite, and I was so weak and nervous I could scarcely walk. A lady friend told me Scalf's Indian River Tonic would relieve pellagra. I found great relief after taking only two bottles of this Master Medicine. I can do all my work now and feel better in every way. I can't say enough for Scalf's Indian River Tonic." For sale by leading druggists. Price $1.00 per bottle. (2t)

Let Sandwiches Rescue You From Heat Waves

By JOSEPHINE E. GIBSON
Director, Home Economics Dept.,
H. J. Heinz Company

SUMMER time is sandwich time! And the wise woman is the one who takes every possible advantage of this popular, easily prepared form of food to save herself long hours in a blistering hot kitchen.

Of course, sandwiches are the backbone of picnic meals. But their usefulness is not to be confined to out-of-doors functions by any means. Substantial sandwich is an excellent main course for any summer lunch, anywhere. And dainty sandwiches, with cool drinks, are the nicest possible food to serve for even formal tea during the warm weather.

Sandwiches, too, are really pleasant foods with which to work. There are scores of delicious varieties which may be prepared with but little effort. And when garnished with Spanish Queen Olives, pickle fans, or small cups of lettuce filled with Sandwich Relish or Chili Sauce, few dishes are more attractive.

With such a widespread use for sandwiches, I am sure you will welcome the following suggestions for preparing some unusually tempting ones:

SUBSTANTIAL SANDWICHES FOR LUNCHEON:

Grilled Ham and Tomato Sandwiches: Toast a slice of bread, on one side only, for each person to be served. Butter the toasted side and place on it a thin slice of cold baked or boiled ham. On the ham place a thin slice of American Cheese. Spread the cheese with a thin layer of Prepared Mustard, and then top with a slice of tomato. Place under a broiler and grill until the cheese is melted and the tomato browned. Or place in a hot oven for a few minutes. Serve with a small lettuce cup filled with Sandwich Relish or India Relish.

Salad Club Sandwiches: Mix 1/2 cup minced celery, 1/2 cup finely minced celery. Then add 1/4 cup Stuffed Spanish Olives, sliced, and 1 hard cooked egg, chopped, and moisten with 1/4 cup Mayonnaise Salad Dressing. Spread this mixture between slices of hot buttered toast or in heated rolls that have been cut and buttered. Serve on crisp heart leaves of lettuce, and garnish with slices of Sweet Dill Pickle.

Hot Minced or Deviled Ham Sandwiches:

Cut ham finely and sprinkle it generously on slices of toast. Pour over the hot toast and ham a sauce made by melting 2 tablespoons butter and blending it with 2 tablespoons flour. Then add 1 cup milk and a dash of pepper, and stir until thickened. Add 2 tablespoons India Relish or chopped Sweet Gherkins. This makes a creamy, well flavored dressing. Garnish at one side with a pickle fan, made by cutting thin parallel slices almost the length of the pickle, then carefully spreading out the sections to make a fan.

Fillings for Picnic Sandwiches:

1 cup minced celery and 1/4 cup Stuffed Spanish Olives, chopped, moistened with Salad Cream. Serve in buttered rolls.

6 hard cooked eggs, chopped, 1/2 cup Fresh Cucumber Pickle Relish, and Mayonnaise Salad Dressing to moisten. Spread this filling on buttered rolls.

2 cups chopped or ground cooked ham, 1/2 cup Sandwich Relish and 2 teaspoons Prepared Mustard. Serve between slices of buttered whole wheat bread.

Fillings for Tea Sandwiches:

Peanut Butter and slices of banana between thin slices of bread. Equal quantities of chopped English Walnut meats and sliced Spanish Olives, moistened with Mayonnaise Salad Dressing. Serve between thin slices of buttered bread.

Open sandwiches spread with cream cheese and decorated with a border of sliced Stuffed Spanish Olives.

Open sandwiches spread with Currant Jelly, with a border of cream cheese forced through a pastry tube.

1. A certain coal lease contract from the plaintiff herein to A. B. Ewen, of date August 8, 1929, and of record in Lease Book No. 5, page 268, Letcher County Court Clerk's office, leasing the sole and exclusive right to mine the coal on a tract of land containing approximately 1030 acres, situate on the waters of the North Fork of the Kentucky River in Letcher County, Kentucky, and on Pine Creek of same, and adjacent tributaries of said North Fork, excepting several small parcels, which said tract of land and exceptions are set out by metes and bounds in the said lease contract, reference to which is here made for a more specific description.

Which said coal lease contract was assigned by A. B. Ewen to the defendant herein by written assignment of date December 23, 1929, and of record in Lease Book No. 5, page 269, Letcher County Court Clerk's office, reference to which is here specifically made.

2. All buildings, structures, fixtures, equipment, machinery and goods, merchandise and all property of every description, real, personal or mixed, situate on the said leased premises or elsewhere, now owned by the defendant herein.

3. All the rights of the defendant in a railroad spur and contract between defendant and L. & N. Railroad Company, relating to the same, said spur extending from the main line of the L. & N. Railroad Company at Mayking, Kentucky, across the river and up Pine Creek to a point about 300 feet above the defendant's tipples.

Said sale will be made on a credit of six months, bond with approved security will be required, and a lien will be retained upon the property sold as additional security for the amount of the purchase price. Said bond shall bear interest at the rate of 6 per cent per annum from day of sale until paid, and have the force and effect of a judgment, and no replevy will be allowed should an execution issue thereon.

Said property shall be offered for sale free and clear of liens, and shall be sold as a whole.

1933 taxes to be paid out of proceeds of sale, and 1934 taxes to be paid by purchaser.

The amount to be raised by said sale is $11,844.15 due the plaintiff herein, already adjudged, and all taxes, costs and other claims as may hereinafter be adjudged against said property.

This, August 1, 1933,
LEWIS E. HARVIE, Receiver for Cameo Coal Corporation.

MASTER COMMISSIONER'S SALE

Letcher Circuit Court
H. R. Thornton, Receiver for The First National Bank of Whitesburg, Plaintiff.
VS. Master Commissioner's Sale.
T. R. Collier, et al, Defendants

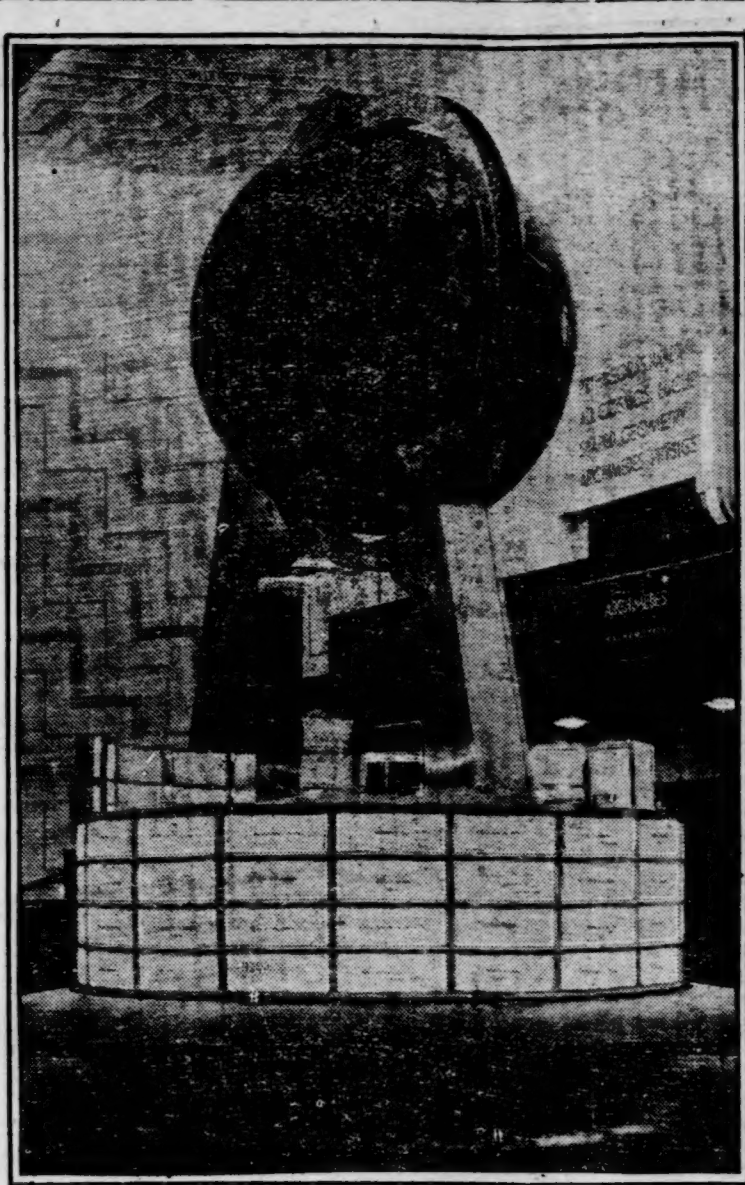

By virtue of a judgment and order of sale, entered at the May term, 1933, of the Letcher Circuit Court, in the above styled cause, I will expose to public sale, to the highest and best bidder, at the front door of the courthouse in Whitesburg, Letcher County, Kentucky, on the 28th day of August, 1933, between the hours of 10 a. m. and 2 p. m., it being Circuit Court day, the following tracts of land, or so much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy the amount adjudged to the plaintiff and to city of Whitesburg and Home Lumber Co. by said judgment, with interest and costs, to-wit:

First Tract—lying and being on the North Fork of the Kentucky River, and in Letcher County, Kentucky, and bounded as follows:

Beginning on the railroad bridge on the south side of the North Fork of the Kentucky River, near mouth of Kingdom Come creek on a corner stone between A. Caudill and Hiram Ison, thence a straight line to the county road; thence with said county road a westwardly direction to the L. & N. Railroad right-of-way, to an elm tree near the railroad bridge; thence with the L. & N. right-of-way to the Kentucky River; thence up the same as it meanders, an east course to the beginning.

Being the same land conveyed to T. R. Collier by Hiram Ison, et al, by deed recorded in Deed Book 66, at page 517, records of the Letcher county Court Clerk's office.

Second Tract—A certain tract or

"THE EARTH WITH ALL THAT THEREIN IS"—Centuries passed before man knew that the earth was composed of other than the common elements such as iron, tin, copper, lead, carbon and sulphur. And it was learned only about a century and a half ago that air was composed of a half dozen or more elemental gases. This giant globe with the array of elements grouped at its base is the "Periodic Table of the Elements" occurring a central position in the basic science exhibit at the Century of Progress Exposition in Chicago. There are now ninety-two known chemical elements, all of which have been assembled, through efforts of Dr. Irving E. Muskat of the University of Chicago, in this display. It was found that Union Carbide & Carbon Corporation, through its widespread operations, was able to supply more than half of these elements and for some of them this organization was the only practical source.

parcel of land, lying and being in Letcher County, Kentucky, and on the North Fork of the Kentucky River:

Beginning on a stone about 75 yards above the railroad bridge, at the bank of Kentucky River, a corner to Hiram Holland's lot, thence No. E. up the river to a spring; thence a N. W. course to the county road; thence a S W course, with the county road, to Hiram Holland's lot; thence with the line of same to the beginning, containing about 1-4 of an acre and being the same land conveyed to T. R. Collier by Alexander Caudill, etc., by deed dated November 3, 1924, and recorded in deed book No. 66, page 614, records of the Letcher County Court Clerk's office.

Third Tract—Being certain lots in the City of Whitesburg, Letcher County, Kentucky, in Letcher Heights, and known and designated as Lots Nos. 7, 8, 9, 10 and 11, in Block No. 3 in said Addition, as shown on the map and survey of said Addition and being the same lots conveyed to T. R. Collier by deed dated Sept. 24, 1929, from Sam Collins and others, which deed is recorded in Deed Book No. 76, page 561, records of the Letcher County Court Clerk's office.

The judgment so directing, each of said tracts of land will be sold as a whole.

Reports received from the "Bull Hole" state that the boys are all safely confined there. The nights, it is said, are made hideous by the rattle of chains, the prayers and curses. There are more preachers than any others of the professions.

Circuit Court convenes here next Monday, and many of our country citizens will come to town to talk over business affairs as well as transact business.

Here's Smiling Relief...

Most of your suffering from common every-day aches and pains is unnecessary and unwise. Unnecessary, because Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills relieve quickly and without unpleasant after effects; unwise, because pain makes your physical condition worse instead of better. One pill usually brings relief in a few minutes.

If you suffer from any of the disorders listed above, take Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills. If they do not give you greater relief in less time than anything else you have used, go to your druggist and get your money back.

A package of Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills in your medicine cabinet, pocket, or hand bag means fewer aches and pains.
